Back in 1952, when Mark Kendall's '52 Plymouth was cruising the streets of Charlotte, there were far fewer roads and there certainly was no W.T. Harris Boulevard. Today, Kendall can drive his classic convertible down a modern four-lane Harris Boulevard to his office in one of the fastest growing areas of Charlotte. The new two-story office complex, located on the corner of East W.T. Harris and Rocky River Road, is the headquarters for the Seventh-day Adventist churches of the Carolinas. Kendall is the manager of the Adventist Christian Book Center located on the first floor of the new building.
