News Notes from Around the Carolina Conference

December, 2010

The new Monroe Pathfinder Club led by Tam Adams is seen here with their first attempt at can collecting for the needy in their community. Pretty impressive! This club is only two months old and they've already had a campout and two community service events, with plans to go Christmas caroling to nursing homes this month. Keep up the good work!

Dear Ladies, You are invited to a Christmas Friendship Tea. Mark your calendar and plan to come! There will be door prizes, music, good food, special guests (that means YOU) and wonderful conversation.

Date: December 12, 2010.

Time: 11 :00 a.m.

Place: Carolina Conference Office, 2701 East W. T. Harris Blvd. Charlotte, NC.

Phone: (704) 596-3200.

Cost: $10.00.

RSVP Debbie Rapp, Ext. 5711 or drapp@carolinasda.com. It's hard to be a Mary in a Martha world. God is able to make all grace abound to you 2 Cor. 9:8. May God bless you during this Holiday Season. Thanks for all you do for God. He knows your heart cry...to be drawn closer to Him.

Doris Sheriff (Center) of the Columbia Midtown church Bible School, presents Linda Sheriff with her diploma for completing the course. Linda's husband David looks on. Also pictured are the Bible School Committee members.

Columbia Midtown hosted a Healthy Cooking School from Sept. 13-Nov. 1. The weekly sessions consisted of lectures on the importance of proper eating habits and preparing healthy foods, and samples were offered of the shared recipes. Pictured are members of the Midtown Health Committee.
